What happened at Calenzano?

Firefighters battled for about two-and-a-half hours to extinguish the blaze after the late-morning explosion at the Calenzano storage and distribution facility, 20km from the city of Florence. A further nine people were injured in the blast, some of them seriously.

What causes a battery to explode?

This phenomenon occurs when a battery's internal temperature escalates uncontrollably, potentially triggering a chain reaction that can lead to fire or explosion. Lead-acid batteries, though less energy-dense, heavier, and shorter-lived than lithium-ion batteries, are known for their proven reliability and cost-effectiveness.

Could a Calenzano depot accident cause a serious accident?

Local authorities have been increasingly concerned about the potential for a serious accident at the Calenzano depot. In a report two years ago, the local municipality warned of the risks of a "major accident" that could lead to the release of "dangerous substances" into the environment.
